INSTRUCTIONS

Below are instructions for completing each section of the Vehicle Dealer/Manufacturer Addendum form.

An incomplete application will delay the processing of the licensing request. If you have questions about completing this application, contact the Department of Licensing, Master License Service at (360) 664-1414. For regulatory questions, contact the Dealers Division at (360) 664-6466.

Please note: The business location must comply with all site laws and pass inspection for approval. See section 7 for further information.

For each physical business location to be licensed, you must submit a separate Master Application, Vehicle Dealer/Manufacturer Addendum, and other required documentation. You must already have licensed a principal location, or have requested a principal location license on a separate application, before requesting the related sub-agency or branch license.

Section 1: Licenses Requested

Retail vehicle dealer means a vehicle dealer who may buy and sell at both wholesale and retail.

Wholesale vehicle dealer means a vehicle dealer who buys and sells other than at retail. Wholesale dealers can only sell to licensed car dealers and not the general public.

- If you will buy and sell used cars, trucks and/or motor homes to licensed dealers and at wholesale only you may select Motor Vehicle Wholesaler instead of the retail Motor Vehicle Dealer license. Your license will be endorsed for wholesale sales only. You must attach a list of the addresses of all facilities at which you will store vehicle inventory.
- If you will have retail sales of cars, trucks, and/or motor homes, and/or sell any of them new you must select the Motor Vehicle Dealer license. (A retail license allows wholesale sales, but ‘wholesale only’ does not allow retail sales.) Sales of vehicles other than cars, trucks and motor homes are covered only in the various, other retail licenses.
- A Licensed Auctioneer needs only the Motor Vehicle Dealer license to sell, at auction, all of the vehicle classes, and is exempt from having to obtain temporary subagency licenses. (see also section 4)
- A Vehicle Manufacturer need only maintain one license in the state of Washington, and that place of business may be located outside of the state. However, there are other requirements for resident agents or employees. Contact Vehicle Services for more information. You must attach a list of the names and license numbers of all dealers in Washington which sell your product.
- If applying as a Vessel, Snowmobile, and/or Off-Road Vehicle dealer and you sell trailers with which those vessels or vehicles may be transported on the highway you must also have a Miscellaneous Vehicle Dealer license.

Section 2: License Plates/Decals Required

Indicate how many dealer license plates or vessel decals you require for each of the dealer licenses you marked in Section 1. The plates/decals allow you to operate an unlicensed vehicle or vessel in your possession for demonstration or transport purposes only.

Per RCW 46.70.090 you will be limited to three license plates for any of the four, regular Motor Vehicle Dealer license types (listed in the left hand column of Section 2 of the addendum form), unless your sales volume allows issuance of more plates. To calculate the maximum allowed you must: 1. Estimate your sales volume for the next 12 months for one license type alone. 2. Multiply that number by 6% (.06), round fractions up to the highest number. This is the maximum number of plates that you may request. Repeat this calculation for each license type in the left hand column that applies to this location. (Note: No calculations are necessary for the specialty plates or vessel decals listed in the right hand column.)

All dealer license plate inventory is assigned to the principal dealership business location. If you are applying for a subagency license on this application, the number of plates you request are considered to be in addition to those already issued to, or requested for the principal location. Note that both the retail and wholesale Motor Vehicle Dealer license uses the same type of license.

Section 3: New Vehicle Sales

Indicate whether you will be selling any new vehicles at this location. (Please note that a vehicle wholesaler deals only in used vehicles.) If you sell new vehicles you must attach a list of the names, addresses and Washington State vehicle manufacturer and/or UBI number of the manufacturers your dealership represents. You must also attach a separate, current sales and service agreement from each manufacturer you list. The sales and service agreement may be in the suggested format A or B:

- A. If your dealership will perform the warranty service, repair and replacement, a letter from the manufacturer containing the following information will suffice:

“This will affirm that _____

has in effect a service agreement with

NAME OF MANUFACTURER OR DISTRIBUTOR

and that the above captioned dealer will perform, upon demand of any customer receiving a new vehicle warranty, the service, repair and replacement work required of the above captioned manufacturer or distributor by such vehicle warranty.”

The statement must be signed and dated by a representative of the manufacturer or distributor and a representative of the vehicle dealer.

- B. If your dealership will arrange to have the warranty service, repair and replacement performed elsewhere you must attach a copy of the actual franchise or sales agreement document which clearly spells out the duties of each of the parties and gives full particulars of how you will ‘arrange for service, repair and replacement work.’

Section 4: Exemptions

If you qualify for and desire the exemptions listed in this section mark “Yes” in the appropriate areas. You must also comply with any requirements listed for the exemption. Please note that your signature on the Master Application form provides certification that you qualify for and will comply with the requirements shown for the exemption you request.

Section 5: Bonding

You must include a properly executed, original surety bond in the amount shown for the indicated licenses or combinations below. Each separate business location must have its own bond.

The name of the principal on the bond must reflect exactly both the business owner name (sole proprietor name, all partners names, or the corporate name) and the business firm name.

All bonds must be signed by the Attorney-in-Fact for the bonding company, and by the applicant: the individual if a sole proprietor, all partners if a general or limited liability partnership, or by an authorized corporate officer or member if a corporation or limited liability company. Incorrect bonds delay license approval. Forms are provided.

Manufactured Home (or Park Trailer)
Dealer, or its Subagency	$30,000
Travel Trailer Dealer, or its Subagency	$30,000

If you are applying for several of the vehicle dealer licenses listed above for this business location, only one bond is required to cover all the business activities, but it must be for the highest amount indicated for any of the dealership types involved. Each business location having any of these licenses must have its own bond.

Manufactured Homes only	$40,000
Manufactured Homes and Travel Trailers (including Fifth Wheel Trailers)	$40,000

If you are only manufacturing other types of vehicles (e.g. cars or trucks), you do not need a vehicle manufacturer bond.

Each licensed vessel dealer location is required to have its own bond unless qualified for the exemption in Section 4.

Section 6: Supplemental Documentation

Depending on which licenses you have requested, you must submit some or all of the forms or lists shown in the chart on page 4 of these instructions.

On the Addendum form, check the boxes next to the documentation types you need to submit and attach the appropriate documentation when you submit your application.
